EDITORIAL NOTE

It is always editorial policy to select the best from those articles available each year, and to that extent the Transactions reflect current interests within the region. The dominance of Lancashire studies in this issue will be balanced next year with the publication of our third occasional series volume on the theme of Medieval Cheshire. This year we are breaking new ground in recent history with Eric Taplin's 'Dock Labour at Liverpool', a labour historian's analysis of dockers; and with Elizabeth Roberts' 'Working Class Housing' in which she uses oral evidence.

The council of the society wishes to thank Mr Bromley for indexing this volume.
